Museum Turns Up the Heat for Bonfire Night!

Wednesday 5th November, 2008

Ignite memories on November the 5th when the Black Country Living Museum combines Bonfire Night Celebrations with a trip down memory lane. The award-winning Dudley attraction turns up the heat with an evening of music, entertainment and old-fashioned family fun and Bonfire Night - without the bangers - gets off to an explosive start!

Bonfires burn brightly in the night sky and the Museum's canalside village looks enchanting, illuminated by candle and gas light. The sound of old-time music floats through the air as a fanfare of barrel organs, showman's organs and a brass band play a medley of popular sing-a-long tunes. Costumed characters in the shops, houses and workshops bring the past to life and chat to visitors about days gone by.

Emma Middleton, Marketing Manager said: "A family-orientated celebration ensures everyone enjoys November the 5th. The Museum is the ideal venue for families with young children and anyone who doesn't like all the loud bangs that Bonfire Night brings."

Tickets for Bonfire Night cost £10.00 for adults and £5.50 for children. Availability is limited and tickets must be pre-booked on 0121 520 8054.
